REPORT ON Refugees from Admiral Stark's Fleet.

Made by D. I. Givens Forwarded by Director of Criminal Investigation

Sir,

In reply to enquiries made on January 4 regarding the Russians who came here by Admiral Stark's fleet, Mr. V. Grosse, Deputy Commissioner for Russian Affairs, stated that these people have no intention of returning to the ships. The cadets in No. 4 Jessfield Road are being cared for by the Russian Benevolent Society, and the people in No. 116 Sinza Road have sufficient funds to keep them for two months. During that time the Deputy Commissioner will endeavour to get them employment on sugar plantation in the Hawaiian Islands, and if that scheme fails they will be sent to Harbin. The Deputy Commissioner believes that, if necessary, he can make arrangements to have any arms in their possession handed over to the police. The Deputy Commissioner for Russian Affairs adds that he only issued permits for the disembarkation from Admiral Stark's fleet to ninety adults approximately and one hundred and three cadets. The house at No. 116 Sinza Road was rented by the refugees themselves.

REPORT ON Apprehension of Trouble in Bureau for Russian Affairs

Made by D. I. Givens Forwarded by Director of Criminal Investigation

Sir,

With reference to attached, I beg to report that I have conveyed the information about the visits of armed men to Nos. 108, 109 Yangtszepoo Road to Chief Insp. O'Toole and D.S.I. Quayle and have made arrangements that D.C. Korolkoff attend the Bureau for Russian Affairs daily during the hours mentioned until further orders. Nos. 108, 109 Yangtszepoo Road is a restaurant kept by a Russian ex-officer named Fonix Golovachevsky, and the party of armed Cossacks who frequent the place comprise Colonel Ouchakoff, Lieutenant Blohin and five or six others. A letter believed to emanate from these people received by Mr. Hotzler is worded as follows: "You shall soon be in the place to which you belong". These Cossacks are believed to have come to Shanghai by Admiral Stark's fleet.

Efforts made on January 3 to see Mr. V. Grosse as regards provisions for the future of the refugees in No. 116 Sinza Road and 4 Jessfield Road were unsuccessful, but will be repeated this morning.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. I. Givens

REPORT ON Apprehension of Trouble in Bureau for Russian Affairs.

Made by D. I. Givens. Forwarded by ... on.

Sir,

In response to a telephone message I called at 10.30 a.m. January 3 on Mr. V. Grosse, Vice Commissioner for Russian Affairs, who reports that threats have been made by certain Russian refugees against a member of his staff and requests that a couple of armed policemen in plain clothes, including one who speaks Russian, preferably D.C. Korolkoff, be placed on guard inside the Consulate daily from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. during which hours large numbers of refugees are in the habit of congregating there. Mr. Grosse also suggests that the Police make a surprise visit to Nos. 108, 102 Yangtsepoo Road, where a group of Cossack officers clad partly in uniform and partly in plain clothes, who are most aggressive of the malcontents, are in the habit of taking their meals, and search them for arms which they are believed to possess.
